Through The Scholarship Hub partnership with easyfundraising, Hertfordshire sixth form student Adam Kerr is well on his way to fulfilling his aim of raising funds to help cover his uni expenses. Adam registered with easyfundraising just 5 months ago and is already seeing the benefits of collecting donations the easyfundraising way, having already raised over £300 towards uni life.

With the financial burden of university falling far more frequently on family members or the students themselves, collecting donations with easyfundraising is a simple alternative.

To help raise the funds he needs for university, Adam is encouraging friends and family to shop online and support him by using fundraising website easyfundraising. Every time they shop with over 3,300 well known retailers, such as Argos, Amazon, Apple, Booking.com, eBay, Just Eat and many more, they collect a free donation for Adam at no extra cost to themselves!

Adam says: “My mum uses easyfundraising to do food shops at supermarkets such as Sainsbury’s and I use clothing shops such as ASOS. Plus, since I’m learning to drive I’ve also used websites that gives insurance quotes.”

Adam also uses the easyfundraising Donation Reminder, a clever tool that alerts shoppers to potential donations and reminds them to login. He said, “I thought the donation reminder was a really great way for my supporters to remember to login to easyfundraising when they shop, ensuring all my donations were collected!”

Adam has big plans for his donations when he starts studying BSc Sport And Exercise Science at Portsmouth University, saying: ‘I’ll use my easyfundraising donations to help get me through uni life, spending it on things such as food, sports clubs and nights out.

He thinks easyfundraising is a must for all students: “Easyfundraising is a great way to make money for living your everyday life. Make sure you start early since every little helps!”
