Our mission and how we achieve it

Easyfundraising's mission is to turn the everyday spending of daily life into a force for good. We do this by delivering easy to use and seamless technology that empowers individuals to turn simple, everyday actions into something good.

We operate a 3 sided model that connects supporters who want to raise funds for good causes with on-line retailers, who make donations when supporters spend on their website.

How does it work?

Causes are on-boarded to the easyfundraising platform once they have cleared our vetting process to check they are bone fide and meet our definition of being a good cause. We then provide advice and toolkits to the cause organiser – or 'cause admin' as we call them – so they can recruit people to become 'supporters' to the cause when they do their on-line shopping.

“ We rely 100% on donations, fundraising and grants to support our work, as we receive no statutory funding. We are currently experiencing huge demand for our services, and extreme financial challenges, as our costs increase, so this extra funding is very gratefully received.

We work at the hyper-local level as well as with well-known national charities

We collaborate with major national charities—including Macmillan, Save the Children, and Dementia UK—adapting our technology to deliver tailored, branded experiences for their supporters.

However, the majority of our impact is felt at a hyper-local level.

Around 75% of the good causes we support operate within their own communities, creating meaningful and often long-term change. These initiatives range from promoting inclusivity in health and fitness, to supporting disadvantaged groups, providing schools with additional learning resources, and enhancing local environments.

We reach these grassroots organisations through our extensive network of over 170 ‘cause partners’—umbrella bodies, national governing organisations, membership groups, and more.

Ultimately, easyfundraising offers a simple and tangible way for people to give back and support good causes across the UK and the local nature of the impact we enable helps strengthen the emotional connection between shoppers and the brands that they shop with.
